2. The body for your web page should be the text that is located in the box below.

WEB SITE UNDER CONSTRUCTION

Please be advised that my first web page only contains basic HTML codes.

I am learning more each day that will make my web page more effective.

Soon I will be able to add color, graphics, and formatting features that make this page look good.

Learning to write HTML code is the first step in creating web pages.

I know that I must try to actively think about design features and apply what I learn.

I know that I must be patient with others while learning web page design.

This web page was created by _____ on _____.

3. Insert a horizontal line after the line WEB SITE UNDER CONSTRUCTION.
4. Make sure you include paragraph tags for each sentence in the body of the web page.
5. Insert a horizontal line before the line.....This web page was prepared by insert your name on today's date.
6. Insert a line break after each occurrence of the word learning in the body above. A total of 4 breaks should be inserted in to your document.
7. When you finish, print your work from notepad AND from the actual web page view. Staple together and turn in.
